Broad and forceful.

1. That we be free to sail the sea, And on the land free ruth - less foe now threat - ens woe To us and thee, O thee, to thee, dear Li - ber - ty, Our cheeks a - glow, we men to stand; To bend the knee a - lone to thee, As Li - ber - ty! Proud in its prime to crush his crime Our seek this foe; With fear - less eye and heart beats high, Him is our right, for these we fight, O Li - ber - ty! dear man - hood cries and at him flies For thee, for thee, O we de - fy with bat - tle cry: "For Li - ber - ty Sweet Li - ber - ty!" A - lone to thee we bend the knee! O

Li - ber - ty! dear Li - ber - ty! for thee we fight, O

Li - ber - ty! 1 - 2 Last ending
